Time's Journey

Editorial

We are happy that the third issue of the journal 'Time's Journey' has been published, containing articles and write-ups from eminent academicians. We feel encouraged in the sense that the preceding two issues of the journal have received wide acclaim and acknowledgement from different corners, thanks to the contributions of the erudite scholars of several leading universities and institutions of the country.

By this time, Professor Sanjay S. Kaptan, Head of the Department of Commerce & Research Center, Savitribai Phule Pune University, Pune has joined us as a member of the Editorial Advisory Board.

'Time's Journey', as an academic journal, endeavours to disseminate knowledge in the different areas of social sciences, particularly, business, economics and management. The journal aims to provide a platform for the academicians and practitioners coming out with research-based papers, particularly empirical ones.

We hope that the third issue, too, will find its place in the readers' mind as before.
